receiving an adjustment to a balance of a financial account of the merchant after the

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record, Cole U.S. Patent 5,850,217, Schreadley Jr. U.S. Patent 5,887,903 (hereinafter Schreadley), and Restaurants Offering Own Tips On How Much To Give Waiter (hereinafter Wilson) combined teach a method for providing an offer during a transaction between a merchant and a customer. Cole teaches receiving a request for authorization of a purchase amount, the purchase amount to be paid from a financial account of the customer (column 5, line 46 thru column 7, line 2) and transmitting an authorization of the purchase amount through a signature (column 5, line 46 thru column 7, line 2). Cole further teaches printing graphical information on the receipt (Figure 7). Schreadley teaches a combined check and tipping guide in which a tipping guide is printed on the back of the check for the convenience of the customer (column 2, lines 1-57). Cole and Schreadley fail to teach providing an offer. Wilson teaches providing an offer that allows customers to check a box for the desired tip, thereby outputting on the record of charge an indication of acceptance (See Full Text). This provides a benefit to the customer in that the tip is paid without the customer having to perform the calculation

Regarding independent claim 2, the prior art fails to teach or suggest a method for providing an offer during a transaction between a merchant and a customer, comprising:

receiving, via an electronic communications network, a request for authorization of a purchase amount for a transaction between a merchant and a customer, the purchase amount to be paid from a financial account of the customer; determining, by a server comprising at least one processor, an offer based on the received request; transmitting, by the server, the offer for output to the customer on a record of charge, wherein the record of charge includes a first signature line associated with and for indicating acceptance of the purchase amount only and a second signature line associated with and for indicating acceptance of the offer output on the record of charge; and determining that the customer signed the second signature line, thereby indicating acceptance of the offer, in which the offer defines an obligation for the customer to fulfill in exchange for a benefit, in which the offer is selected from the group consisting of:

a supplemental product offer for the obligation of an additional payment in addition to the purchase amount to be provided by the customer in exchange for a supplemental product, and a cross-subsidy offer for providing a discount toward the purchase amount in exchange for the obligation of the customer accepting an offer of a third party other than the customer and the merchant.

For this reason, claim 2 is deemed allowable over the prior art. Independent claims 6 and 44 are substantially similar to claim 2 and are thus allowed for similar reasoning. Claims 4, 8-16, 21-23, 25-28, 30, 31, 33-43, and 50 are allowed based on their dependency.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
